Moody Monday
Emerging Brands,
Stand D42

Edinburgh-based interiors studio Moody Monday designs and manufactures contemporary handmade wallpaper, textiles, homewares, and bespoke prints. The new Secret Wallpaper collection (pictured) was inspired by an abandoned musical organ found half open in a junkyard. Exploring the polar opposite of commonly perceived beauty and instead using something deemed as useless junk as an inspiration, the resulting designs combine strong geometrical patterns with bold colours.

Tabisso
Office,
Stand O6

France-based design company Tabisso creates high-end furniture, focusing on professional markets and contract applications. Its main product range, Typographia, comprises typographic lounge chairs representing all the letters of the alphabet and numbers from 0-9, completed by a set of punctuation mark floor lamps. At 100% Design, the company will launch Unita, a collection of lounge chairs, poufs and side tables which can be used alone or in combination with the Typographia collection.

LG Hausys
Eco, Design & Build,
Stand E211

LG Hausys will showcase HI-MACS natural acrylic stone in some futuristic furniture applications, demonstrating the ability to form the solid surface material into any three-dimensional shape. The company will also highlight the suitability for HI-MACS to be used for both internal wall cladding and exterior facade applications, as well as display a range of new colour options.
